2010 International

VIDEO COMPETITION

3 Gold Awards @$1,000

6 Silver Awards @$500

10 Bronze Awards @$250

You, Wireless and YouTube™!!

WIRELESS SENSOR NETWORKS, 4G SYSTEMS, NETWORKING, TELEMETRY, SWARM ROBOTICS, ENVIRONMENTAL MONITORING MEMS FOR WIRELESS, TELEMEDICINE, UNMANNED AIRCRAFT, SATELLITE AND BALLOON SYSTEMS, WIRELESS ROBOTICS, WIRELESS-ENABLED BIOMEDICAL SENSORS, ELECTROMAGNETIC SENSORS, TRAFFIC MONITORING—WIRELESS SENSOR NETWORKS, 4G SYSTEMS, NETWORKING, TELEMETRY, SWARM ROBOTICS, ENVIRONMENTAL MONITORING, MEMS FOR WIRELESS, TELEMEDICINE

COMPETITION DETAILS

Topic: "Systems Thinking in Engineering Design"

Systems Thinking relates to making connections across engineering disciplines and subdisciplines in order to design high-performance systems.

In particular, we are interested in your story about designs involving a wireless aspect.

- Open to: All undergraduate college students
- Format: Video posted on YouTube
- Content: Must be new, rights-free content (i.e. music, video images), 5 minutes in length or less
- How to officially enter: E-mail the YouTube URL for the video by the deadline to mttalive@eng.usf.edu
- Include: (1.) Name, (2.) University/College and Major, (3.) YouTube URL
- Deadline: April 1, 2010, 23:59 UTC
- Scoring: The entries will be judged by a panel of IEEE members, based on the following criteria:
 - 50% creativity
 - 25% novelty of wireless aspect
 - 25% systems thinking in the design

Awards will be announced at the IEEE International Microwave Symposium May 23-28, 2010. Awards will be made directly to the winning students by MTT and will be announced to an international audience.
